Officially done with my MBA!! But what is an MBA really? Many might say it's a title, a recognition, a piece of paper that shows I now possess a specific set of skills taught by experts in the field and that might help me solve certain obstacles in any given area of a company. Yet for me, an MBA is so much more than that: it was the experience of a lifetime! It was meeting strangers that somehow became family and that became a crucial part of me, and that I no longer see my life without. It was an exchange of cultures, some already familiar, but some as foreign to me as foreign could get. It was a sharing of ideas, ideas that came to life through presentations and real-life scenarios, and projects enriched by each member and their individual backgrounds and expertise. It was definitely a good party... With nights out that ended with the sun in the sky! It was midnight walks through different cities, endless travel, a LOT of food and (hopefully just a few) extra kilos... unforgettable memories that will last a lifetime, and definitely one of the best years of my life. To wrap up, all I can say is thank you. Thank you to my parents and grandparents for always supporting me with my decisions. Thank you to my sister for being the best roommate. Thank you to Madrid for being such an amazing city. Thank you to everyone who was a part of this year, however direct or indirect, because each one made a difference and made this MBA what it was. And thank you to IE for giving me this opportunity. I shall be forever grateful 💙
